Alimak Service the new service provider for Avanti Wind Systems.

Avanti was in 2016 sold to global vertical access solution company, Alimak Group. While the brand of Avanti continues to operate separately, the combined Group benefits mean a broadened product portfolio, greater supply chain efficiencies and R&D opportunities creating an even stronger, unrivalled capability with more than 2,400 employees around the world.

Alimak Group has been a pioneer and industry leader for 70 years and each part of the Group has a proud history as global leaders in their various markets. The Group's products and services are supplied under four key brands which are renowned for their strong safety record and supply of high-quality vertical access solutions including construction hoists and platforms, industrial elevators, end-to-end facade access solutions, service lifts, climb assistance, platforms, complete tower internal solutions, ladder and fall protection systems for wind turbine towers.

The Alimak Group brands; Avanti, CoxGomyl, Manntech and Alimak are launching a joint global organization under the name Alimak Service to provide world-leading product and customer support services to the owners and users of Alimak Group products and vertical access equipment across the globe.

With service support centers in 60+ countries and 700 employees, Alimak Service will provide a full range of service, parts and training solutions to ensure the highest levels of product uptime and operator safety over the total lifecycle of the equipment.

"Through Alimak Service, our customers will continue to receive the high-quality spare parts and services of the brands that they have come to expect, but with the added benefits of an increased geographical footprint, added capabilities and even more timely support", says Tormod Gunleiksrud, CEO Alimak Group.
